After much careful consideration, WICPTSA will not be holding the Next to New Sale. While our history and traditions are very important to us, our volunteers, donations and customers have gradually decreased over the years and therefore our revenue decreased as well.

We would like to sincerely thank the community that supported the Next to New Sale for so many years! We hope you continue to share your support as we look for new fundraising options that allow us to provide cultural arts, scholarships, family events and more at all our ten schools.
