

Dan Reardon Media Arts Scholarship

The West Irondequoit Central PTSA is pleased to offer the Dan Reardon Media Arts Scholarship to a student at Irondequoit High School. Dan Reardon worked in the District Media Resource Center at IHS for 38 years. This scholarship was established upon his retirement in June 2013. The scholarship is for a maximum of $100 to be used towards a summer learning program of the student's choosing in media arts.

A wide variety of programs fulfill the "media arts" requirement, including (but not limited to) photography, filming, editing, digital imaging, and print media. Many local institutions offer an variety of summer programs, and the PTSA would like to encourage students to take advantage of such opportunities for enrichment. As Mr. Reardon often said, "Pursue what you love."

IHS students who would like to participate in a media arts program this summer may apply for the scholarship by completing the application below. The student information and the accompanying paragraph MUST BE HANDWRITTEN by the applicant. Please be sure to include the parent/guardian signature. Applications are due by April 26, 2019. Please complete this form in full and mail to Amy Romano, 220 Titus Avenue, Rochester, NY 14617
